Blueberry pancakes

Can you imagine a blueberry festival without the freshly baked blueberry pancakes? You will find them on the menus of various restaurants in Enzklösterle – not only in the summer but all year round.

Black Forest Blueberry Gateau

The famous Black Forest Cherry Gateau is well-known throughout the world. In the Café Klösterle you are offered the possibility to learn how the real Black Forest Blueberry Gateau comes out perfectly. After tasting this sweet delight it is up to you to decide which one is your favorite.

'Wild Heidi'

Have you ever heard of the 'Wild Heidi'? This cocktail of blueberry liqueur, sparkling wine and blueberries as well as its non-alcoholic sister, the "Soft Heidi" has been created in Enzklösterle.

A wide variety of blueberry products are being offered at the blueberry house, the Heidelbeerhaus, and at other sales points in Enzklösterle. There you will find everything your blueberry heart desires, for example mustard, vinegar, jam, bread spreads, chocolate, tea, drinks, gifts and table linen.

Blueberry Village of Enzklösterle

The idyllic blueberry village of Enzklösterle is located between Pforzheim and Freudenstadt in the Northern Black Forest. The fir forests around Enzklösterle offer an ideal breeding ground for the blueberries that grow abundantly in this area. They formerly secured the living of whole families.

For centuries, blueberries have been picked in the summer and were brought to the villages. The children were even granted a 3 to 4 weeks blueberry holiday, in order to be able to get together for picking blueberries early in the morning.

In Enzklösterle, focus is put on this precious fruit accompanied by numerous events. Guided hikes follow the tracks of the blue forest fruit. During our culinary seminar with cooking classes you will get to know new recipes and you will experience unique local flavors. Let yourself be enchanted by the interesting stories you will be told about the blueberries of Enzklösterle.

Blueberry Festival (Heidelbeerfest)

Back then as today, the health significance of the blue forest fruit is well-known, as, besides its wonderful taste, it strengthens the immune system, has anti-inflammatory properties, supports weight reduction and helps counteracting stress. Blueberries are a true source of health, whether fresh from the shrub, dried, prepared as tea or as part of a cake.

The centuries-old blueberry tradition and the healthy qualities of the blueberry are honored at the blueberry festival in Enzklösterle taking place in the second half of July.

On that weekend, the blueberry market will be held at the place in front of the festival hall. On Saturday afternoon, the blueberry festival will be officially opened with the arrival of the Blueberry Princess. Enjoy the supporting musical program and the performances of well-known local music and dance groups as well as a children's entertainment program. Don't miss the blueberry party with music and dance on Saturday night.

Blueberry Trail (Heidelbeerweg)

We recommend discovering the 'blue gold' of the Black Forest on the approximately 12 km-long blueberry trail taking you into the woods around Enzklösterle. Starting from the Tourist Information Office, the circular trail leads you through the spa park and uphill to the Schöllkopf mountain at an altitude of about 800 m. Downhill, the trail takes you over the river Enz, being rich in trout, to the Hirschkopf mountain and the Erdbeerplatte. From the Blueberry Swing that you will find there, you will be able to enjoy a breathtaking view over Enzklösterle. The trail continues along the deer park to the Schneckenkopf mountain and, following a small panorama descent, it leads you back to the departure point.

Trip to the Kaltenbronn Nature Reserve

Why not start off for a blueberry trip to the Kaltenbronn Nature Reserve - an approx. 2.5 hours hike uphill through the blueberry woods. The local information center is accessible also by bus and by car. A permanent multimedia exhibition with lots of exciting information about the highland moor area, its plants and animals, especially the capercaillie, is waiting for you to be discovered. Follow the hiking trail which takes you through the unique Wildsee moor for about 1.5 hours before you reach the idyllic Grünhütte restaurant.
